2. Location:

Emma Taylor

3. Year Published:

December 2006

4. Brief Summary:

Community Health Initiative funded by Union of BC Municipalities. Goals of project included: providing community with valid information on local resources affecting health; to create a community health plan; to build local capacity in acquiring data to advocate for resources. Data was collected for a community resource map project, community health survey, and a child & youth resiliency survey. Report provides detailed demographic info from the compiled survey data. Report outlines recommendations for action in three broad categories: Strengthen access to mental health and addiction services; strengthen collaboration between community service organizations; create supportive physical environments for health lifestyles. A long-term evaluation criteria is presented to monitor actions over time. Large appendix includes media clips, survey questions, qualitative data, and statistical summaries of survey data.
